

Remédiation 10 : Pronoms Relatifs

Définition :

un petit mot qui renvoie à un nom (= antécédent) pour éviter de le répéter dans une même phrase.
Il introduit une proposition relative, qui apporte une information supplémentaire à propos d'un nom.

WHO renvoie à une personne. (=qui, que)

Exemple : The president who abolished slavery in America was Abraham Lincoln.

WHICH renvoie à une chose. (=qui, que)

Exemple : The city which has the largest population also has the worst living conditions.

WHICH peut aussi reprendre toute une phrase; il sera alors traduit en français par "ce qui"

Exemple : There are too many people, which causes overcrowding.

ATTENTION à l'orthographe!!! WHICH

THAT renvoie à une personne ou une chose. (=qui, que)

Exemple : This is an invention that will change global cities for the better.

WHERE renvoie à un lieu. (=où)

Exemple : The city where I was born has a lot of parks.

WHEN renvoie à un moment. (=où)

Exemple : I remember the day when Martin Luther King delivered his speech.

WHOSE renvoie à un possesseur. (=dont)

Exemple : Barack Obama, whose mother comes from Kansas, is an American-American.

Ø renvoie à une personne ou une chose complément. (=qui, que)

Exemple : The man Ø I showed you yesterday is the new mayor.

1- à corriger :

- a. My ideal global city is a city hasn't got pollution and health problems.
- b. There are a lot of museums when you can visit with your family.
- c. A hero can be a person like Nelson Mandela who they fought for equality.
- d. A hero is someone does something good for society.
- e. A hero is a person which helps people.

CORRECTION

1- à corriger :

- a. My ideal global city is a city which ou that hasn't got pollution and health problems.
- b. There are a lot of museums ou that you can visit with your family.
- c. A hero can be a person like Nelson Mandela who ø fought for equality.
- d. A hero is someone who does something good for society.
- e. A hero is a person who helps people.